Castro Newspaper Building Gunned From Car

HAVANA, May 31 (AP) — Gunmen today fired from a speeding car at the building housing the semi-official newspaper Revolucion. This was the second attack in two days on publications supporting Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Several shots from automatic weapons struck the Revolucion building. No one was injured. The gunmen escaped.

Revolucion is the official organ of Castro's 26th of July Movement. Yesterday the front of the building housing the pro-Castro magazine Bohemia was peppered by sub-machinegun fire from a passing car.

Meanwhile, another pro-Castro newspaper accused the United States of setting up a powerful radio transmitter in the Caribbean area to "combat" the Cuban revolution.

Liberacion, official organ of the 26th of July Movement in Las Villas Province, charged that the station was set up in violation of international agreements. It gave this account:

The 50,000-watt station, to be known as Radio Swan, International Voice of the Caribbean, will inaugurate English-Spanish programs Wednesday on 1160 kilocycles. It is located on Swan Island, 30 miles south of the United States.

(Available records show a Swan Island off the Honduran coast owned by an American family named Smith. It has been used as a U. S. weather station.)

Cuban military officials today declined to confirm a report by the Miami Daily News that a raiding party led by Raul Castro broke into a meeting of air force officers who were conspiring against the regime and arrested them this weekend.

The "Washington Post and Times Herald" on 6/1/60 reported that "Liberacion," the official organ of Castro's July 26 Movement in Las Villas Province, Cuba, reported that a 50,000-watt station to be known as "Radio Swan, International Voice of the Caribbean" would inaugurate English-Spanish programs on Wednesday (presumably 6/1/60). This station was located on Swan Island. "Liberacion" charged that the station was set up in violation of international agreements and accused the U.S. of setting up a powerful radio transmitter in the Caribbean area to "combat" the Cuban revolution.
